HELPFUL WORDS

From a Norway Citizen

Is your back lame and painful?
Does it ache especially after exertion?
Is there a soreness in the kidney region?

These symptoms suggest weak kidneys.
If so there is danger in delay.
Weak kidneys get weaker fast.

Give your trouble prompt attention.
Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Your neighbors use and recommend them. Ask your neighbor?

Read this Norway testimony.
Mrs. A. L. Sanborn, Beal St., Norway,

says: "I am perfectly satisfied Doan's Kidney Pills are a dependable medicine to relieve ailments resulting from disordered kidneys. I used them a few years ago and gave them a thorough trial. Since then I have had no return of kidney complaint and on that account I place a great deal of confidence in Doan's."

PATHWAYS THROUGH LIFE

You say that your life is a failure,
That the future holds nothing but despair,
And always, always defeat.

But the trouble is not in the future,
It is in the present, and it is in the past,
And it is in the way you live.

You long to go forth to the battle,
But your feet are fettered quite;
Remember, who serve in the corps of reserve
May be able as those who fight.

You chafe to enter the races
For pleasure and gold and fame,
You find the prize but an empty name,
The toil that is yours seems fruitless.

Your days are dreary and long;
But the lowliest duty may glow with beauty,
When wrought with a cheerful song.
The world's best sweats are denied you.

You have tasted the cup of woe;
But who suffers to give that others may live,
Has the noblest life, I trow.
Oh, my friends, do bravely

Work that is to us given,
And smile in belief that what causes us grief,
The pathways we traverse lead to heaven.
And some are by barrenest strand;

But with vision grown wide we shall wonder
For they led to the beautiful Land.

A SPELL OF REST

My wife has been urging me to take a month's rest, but I have been too busy to do so.

I have been too busy to do so, but I have been too busy to do so.

I have been too busy to do so, but I have been too busy to do so.

I have been too busy to do so, but I have been too busy to do so.

DEPOPULATING THE FARMS

Again comes the sound of warning to the young men of our towns, villages and farming community to stay away from the big cities—remain on the farm.

All over the country there is a tremendous shortage in dwelling houses in the centers of population. In the cities fabulous prices are charged for rents simply because the landlords know that they can collect any sum they choose.

But why this condition of affairs? Very simple. The higher wages in the cities are drawing people in from the farms by the hundreds of thousands, and they must be housed and fed.

They receive higher wages, it is true, but they forget until too late that their expenses are in like proportion.

Daily our farms are becoming depopulated, and if the stampede continues and there is no influx of farm labor from the old world we will soon be face to face with the national calamity of a non-production of the food necessary to sustain life.

If there be wisdom in the seats of the mighty it is time that it be brought into play.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

HARKEN BACK ON THE PAST

Twenty-eight Years Ago
Chas. H. Morse and family have moved from Brunswick to this place.
Prof. W. H. Whedon is organizing an elocution class here.
E. E. Millett has purchased the stock in trade at the Norway Shoe Store and is to continue the business.
Della Noyes and Grace Nevers were thrown from their sleigh while out driving, by its overturning. They escaped without serious injury.

Acrostic
Written for the Advertiser, Feb. 15, 1892 by H. C. Bacon of Bryant's Pond, Me. The sentiments expressed are as true now as they were 28 years ago:
On friends of Old Oxford, whatever your station,
"Xamine this paper and read it well through,
For in it you'll learn all about your relations,
On farm or in village, the news will reach you.
Remember for news it is hard to be beaten,
Direct from headquarters you get it each week,
Collected expressly by good correspondents,
Of all local items they freely will speak.
Universally liked by its legion of patrons,
Ne'er failing to reach them wherever they roam.
To brothers and sisters, to maidens or matrons,
Yes, truly it reads like a "letter from home."
All ye who in business desire good attention,
Directly from those who can patronage give,
Very quickly you'll find if your business you mention.

Each newspaper notice will help you to live.
Remember, we ask, that the old Advertiser,
To most of your customers weekly will go,
In all of your plans can you think of a wiser?
Send in a big "ad" and your business will grow.
Exclude from our rhyming, all but the first letters,
Read rightly the name of a paper they show.

Dr. B. F. Bradbury slipped while stepping into his sleigh Sunday afternoon and broke the small bone in his left leg between the knee and ankle. He was back of Pike's Hill when the accident happened. The doctor is comfortable and the leg is doing well, but it will be some weeks before he is able to attend to his practice.

J. O. Crocker's horse recently met with an accident by getting into a ditch about four feet deep that was filled with snow when delivering coal at R. E. Townsend's.

The town warrant appears in this issue. The most interesting article to people of the present day is as follows: To see what sum of money the town will grant and raise for the foundation and commencement of a Public Library in the town of Norway and to prescribe regulations for its government.

J. C. True is now perfecting a frankfort sausage machine which he expects to exhibit at the World's Fair next year.

On the 19th a fire started near the chimney in the Congregational church. It was subdued after two hours hard work. The vestry was blackened with smoke, the pipe organ was damaged, the piano was ruined and the loss on fixtures was heavy.

Minnie A. Plummer, organist at the Congress Square Universalist church, Portland, has been engaged to play the coming year at an increased salary. She is wintering in Portland and goes to Boston, Fridays to take pianoforte lessons of Prof. McDowell. The next step will be a trip abroad.

South Paris can boast of some smart boys. One of them, Charlie Cutler, saved a cord of hard dry wood in seven hours the other day. As he is but twelve years old, we call that doing pretty well. Not many boys of his age can boast of doing that.

Twenty-six Years Ago
The Masons have placed an illuminated sign over the door at their hall in the form of a lamp lighted by electricity and the Odd Fellows have a similar one from the bay window at their hall. Both the Masons' and Odd Fellows' Halls which are in the same building, are lighted by electricity.

The dining room at the Beal's Hotel has been painted and decorated by G. W. Chaney and presents a very attractive appearance. It is in several colors that blend harmoniously. The air is light has been changed for eight incandescent lights, one over each table. A moulding has been put round the room for pictures and several other improvements made. "This dining room was the pride of the late Ezra Beal, Gen. Beal's father, who built it and the General declares it to be the best proportioned dining room in the State of Maine.

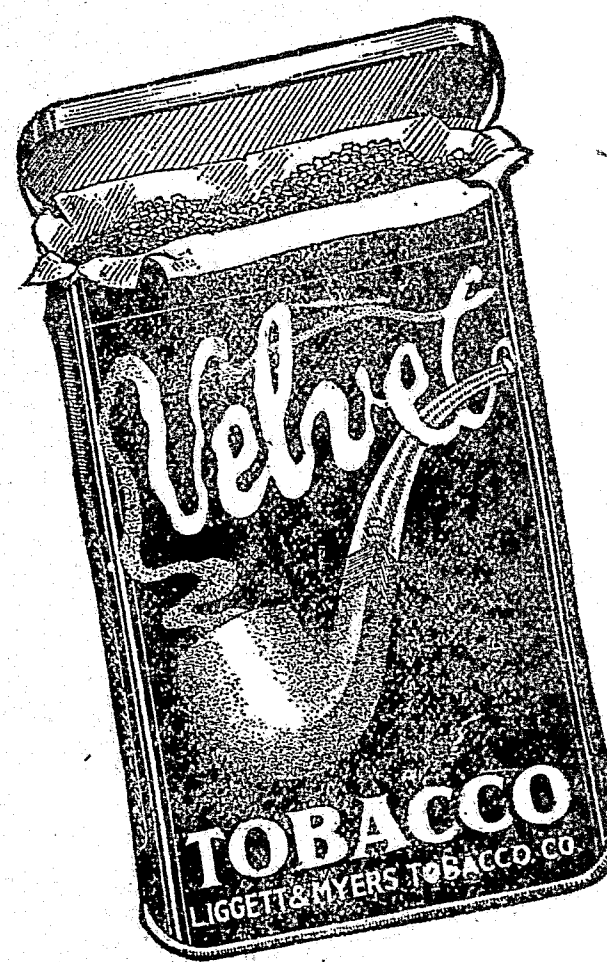

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Cummings and sons seldom do things by halves and their winter party, Friday evening was no exception to their general rule. There were twenty-eight tables. The guests were each presented with flowers cut from the Cummings green house. Refreshments of ice cream, cake, pop corn, etc., were served. There were over one hundred present. They crowded a good deal of enjoyment into the few hours and before midnight all were safely home. Everett Bicknell and Mrs. George Holmes were both entitled to the highest honors, having the same number of points.

WINTER EVENING'S OPPORTUNITY

Out of doors stands a naked world. The summer things are gone. But the home within is bright and warm. The seasons indoors reverse the order of the outdoor seasons. Nature's Winter is the human summer-time. With the first touch of frost the blood leaps faster and the mind grows clear. The fire is lighted on the hearth. Friends greet friends in cheery hospitality. Story-telling begins and the books come down from their dusty nooks. Winter is here again, but by the spirit's calendar it is spring within the heart.

The long winter evenings, the blazing fire, the children gathered about, the apples and popcorn on the table, give promise of a splendid winter's harvest for the home. The stories read to the children in the twilight hour will be remembered long after many of the textbook facts are forgotten. What an opportunity, through these stories, to plant the seeds of true Americanism within the growing mind! America is as rich in hero stories and in deeds of patriotism as any day as a part of the winter's sowing will assure a better America tomorrow.

And to the adult these long evenings give the opportunity for leisure wisely spent, or for self-education through reading and reflection. It would be a pity if the winter yielded no harvest to the mind. Let us be thankful for the long evenings. They may mean cold and snow without, but they may also mean a brighter light within the heart and home. —Minneapolis Journal.

There's a World of Solid Comfort In the Rich, Red Tin

YES, sir, we mean that same warm red and gold tin that smiles a welcoming "Howdy" to you in every tobacco store. Know what those colors mean?

The red is for the friendly warmth, the mellow cheeriness, that Velvet puts into your old pipe. And the gold is where the Kentucky sunshine, that ripens good old Velvet, has just sort of soaked through.

Remember what Velvet Joe said about it?

"You've met canned meat and canned music. Ever see any tinned sunshine? Well, look into any Velvet tin."

And think this over:

We don't have to hide Velvet's taste or smell with a lot of this, that and the other thing. Because Velvet has naturally what pipe smokers want—real simon-pure tobacco taste and fragrance. It's just good, honest Kentucky leaf, made still more friendly and mellow by two years' ageing in wooden hogsheads. Just good tobacco. That's all. But it's mighty near enough for the man who wants a pipeful of tobacco and not a box of bon bons.

The picture of a pipe on the tin needn't keep you from rolling a jim-dandy cigarette with Velvet.

How's the Velvet holding out in your old red tin?

BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUBS

That there is in boys' and girls' club work substantial profit, as well as pleasure, experience and lessons in self-reliance, is shown by State Leader Ralph P. Mitchell's report of agricultural club work in Maine for the year 1919.

The 2049 club members who completed their projects and submitted financial statements and stories of their work, had a total season's production valued at $60,429.40. Their total costs of production, including a fixed charge per hour for their own labor, were $7,947.82, total net profits, $52,481.58.

The results by projects were as follows: Sweet corn, 147 enrolled, value of products $7,198.03, cost of production $2,220.33, net profit $4,977.65; flint corn, 27 enrolled, product value $1,213.05, cost $631.84, profit $581.21; potatoes, 124 enrolled, value $14,422.39, cost $6,160.45, profit $8,261.94; gardens, 413 enrolled, value $4,340.54, cost $1,971.61, profit $2,368.93; canning, 600 enrolled, value $19,024.84, cost $14,158.15, profit $4,866.69; poultry, 159 enrolled, value $4,691.27, cost $2,694.41, profit $1,996.86; pigs, 254 enrolled, value $8,919.27, cost $5,210.98, profit $3,708.29.

In the eighth project, cooking and housekeeping in which no financial statement is kept, and the element of profit does not enter, 325 girls were enrolled.

Publicly endorsed through the daily press by men of prominence throughout the United States and Canada, including supreme court judges, mayors of leading cities, lawyers, doctors, bankers, state and government officials, prominent educators and well-known ministers of the Gospel.

Now sold from coast to coast and from Gulf to Great Lakes, throughout the United States and Canada.

Tanlac is purely vegetable and is composed of the most beneficial roots and herbs known to science. Formula complies with all national and state pure food health laws of United States and Canada.

Absolute merit responsible for unprecedented success.

World's Record Broken By Tanlac

Over Four Million Bottles Sold in 1919—the Fifth Year of Its History.

Tanlac has brought a new romance to the commercial world. It is the story of an acceptance and appreciation of merit never before attained by a proprietary medicine. Staid businessmen to whom the actual figures of the production of Tanlac have been presented have scouted them until the proof was shown. The production of Tanlac now stands at the rate of almost four million bottles per year. The exact figures are 3,992,800. The sale of a million bottles in the first nine months which far exceeded any record ever made by a proprietary medicine, now seems insignificant.

OVER 17,000 BOTTLES A DAY

The sale for the first ten weeks of last year amounted to over One Million bottles, an average of over one hundred thousand bottles per week, which is at the rate of more than seven thousand bottles per day, and the total sales for 1919, the fifth year of Tanlac's history, was more than four million bottles. It seems almost incredible, but these are actual figures and such a record established by this wonderful medicine.

"One firm alone," said Mr. G. F. Willis, the international distributor of Tanlac, "has given orders for a total of 150,000 bottles within eighteen months' time. The firm I refer to is the Spurlin-Neal Co., of Nashville, Tenn. Mr. C. S. Martin, president of this great firm, who is also president of the Southern Drug Jobbers' association, will verify this statement.

Tanlac is the result of many years of arduous study by Mr. Cooper and his principal chemist. In fact, the two of them have carefully watched its development from the beginning of the experimental stage to its present state of efficiency. So remarkable have been the results obtained from this medicine that I doubt seriously if either of them can realize the immensity of their success. Like many other great discoveries it has required time to prove its far-reaching effects."

Tanlac, the Celebrated Medicine Which Has Been Accomplishing Remarkable Results in the United States

Drug Co. Remarkable Sales Record of Sixteen Million

Bottles Phenomenal and Unprecedented.

Tanlac, the celebrated medicine which has been accomplishing such remarkable results throughout the United States and Canada, and which has been having a phenomenal sale wherever it has been introduced, will now be sold in Norway by A. L. Clark Drug Co., the amazing success achieved by this medicine in only five years' time is not only phenomenal, but unprecedented.

The discovery of Tanlac, the beginning of its manufacture, the establishment of the large and modern laboratories at Dayton, Ohio, occupying more than 60,000 feet of floor space, reads more like fiction than facts from latter-day commercial history.

Sixteen Million Bottles Sold in Five Years

Although placed on the market but little more than five years ago, over sixteen million bottles have been sold, and its sales record probably has never been equalled in the history of the drug trade in America.

From coast to coast and from Gulf to the Great Lakes, Tanlac is known and honored. Millions have taken it and have pronounced it the greatest medicine of all time. No matter where you go throughout the United States, whether East, West, North or South, Tanlac is a household word and is now unquestionably the most widely talked of medicine in the world today.

Briefly, this is the record of the truly marvelous medicine which will now be placed within the reach of everyone. In only a few weeks' time it will be placed on sale in practically every large city, town, village and hamlet throughout the entire section.

OLDEST COUPLE IN CASCO

One of the oldest couple in Casco is James Rolfe and his wife, Caroline (Jordan), who come of pioneer stock. They are living near South Casco. They are the father and mother of nine children, of whom seven are living. They are Herman and Clarence, both of Bridgton, Archie of Westbrook, Harry of Rochester, N. H.; Minerva Bartlett of Rochester, E. J. Edwards of Poland and Rose Manchester, who is living with the aged couple this winter. James was the son of William Rolfe of Munjoy Hill section, who was born in 1772. William Rolfe had nine children, the only remaining ones being James and Lennel. There were three of the boys who married Jordan sisters. His ancestors extend back to the historical James Rolfe and the well known Pocahontas. James served in the Civil war.

On his birthday he had a party of his children and grandchildren which represented four generations. Mr. Rolfe had a number of grandchildren in the world war. He was not content to set back and be a slacker so had a large war garden which he took care of all alone. This last summer he also had a garden though not as large.

One of his grandchildren tells of spending a few days there in harvesting and rising one morning about half past six he noticed Mr. Rolfe with an ax started to see him later lugging poles on his back to stack his beans. This shows he believes in the old adage, "The early bird catches the worm." His wife, Caroline, did the work for a family of three during the whole summer. Mr. Rolfe is 86 years old and his wife 83. We hope they will continue in their activity for many years.

FEED THE BIRDS

Birds must eat to live and the snow that now mantles the earth has covered nearly all the feeding grounds of the feathered songsters who eke out an existence precariously in winter at best. They are the best agency for bug and insect destruction that humanity is blessed with so that the square deals demands due consideration of this fact on the part of the beneficiaries in winter.

Toss bread crumbs and table scraps of all kinds out of the window instead of throwing them where they will do no good. It is quite as thrifty to destroy waste as to be prodigal of more valuable by products. Tiny scraps from the breakfast, dinner, lunch or supper table will be picked up eagerly if thrown within reach of all kinds of birds that need such generosity after every big storm. There is not a family in the town but what can spare the crumbs, at least, to furnish plentiful meals for the birds for they will find every little scrap that is scattered out of doors.

JOSEPH ANDREWS' CALIFORNIA TRIP

Glendale, Cal., Jan., 1920.

Dear Advertiser:—The latter part of November I received a card from Pearl Andrews of Exira, Iowa, announcing the death of his sister, Jessamine Andrews. She died in the Iowa Insane Asylum and was buried beside her father in the Exira cemetery. She was born April 16 1877, and died Nov. 19, 1919. Within the last few years Pearl has lost by death, his mother, his brother, Claude, his father, and now his sister. As his father, the late H. F. Andrews, was a native of Lovell Center, Maine, his school boy friends living there will undoubtedly be interested to hear of these facts about his family.

Besides Pearl there are three other brothers, Charles, John and Philip, all stalwart, forcible young men. They all live in Wyoming and own valuable cattle ranches. They live in the midst of a fine hunting and fishing country and I hope to visit them next summer and try my luck at catching some of their choice rainbow trout.

The following sketch of former South Bridgton people may be of interest to some of our Advertiser readers living in that section of the Pine Tree state. Some over a month ago word came to me that Charles Fitch had lately died at his home in Middleboro, Mass. Fifty to sixty years ago there was no more Bridgton than the bare and girls of the Powers, Fitch and Fessenden families. Elizabeth, Viola and Andrew Powers, Edwin, Charles and Sarah Fitch and Thomas and Mary Fessenden.

P. Fitch married Elizabeth Powers and T. S. Fessenden, Viola Powers, and Andrew Powers never married and at his death last Christmas a year ago, left $10,000 in his will to his life long friend, Charles Fitch. The latter later in life married a Massachusetts lady, who is now his widow. Of these married above, Sarah Fitch, now Mrs. Berry of South Bridgton, remained at home and Mary Fessenden moved to New Knoxville, Tenn., where she married and died long years ago. The other six all moved to Wisconsin about 1897 and about 1873-3 they all moved to South Dakota and took up government land in Turner and Sanborn County, where they grew up with the country and prospered. All have passed over to the other shore except Mr. Fitch, who is living with his daughter at Lakeside, Calif., and Mrs. Fessenden, who is living with her daughter, Levia at their beautiful home at San Diego, Cal. They were all of them a credit to their native town and state and in the great growing west they and their children have been highly honored and have done their share towards making this a better land to live in.

On Thursday afternoon, Oct. 16, 1919, I took the train at Hurley, South Dakota, and started out on my sixth round trip to the Golden state and after an all night's ride arrived at the fine $20,000,000 Union depot at Kansas City, Mo., and about 10 a. m., Friday, I boarded the sleeper on the Santa Fe R. R. bound for Los Angeles, Cal., with two stops between Albuquerque, New Mexico and Parris, Cal.

All day Friday and Friday night and all day Saturday the train moved swiftly and about 10 p. m. at night it pulled up at the depot of St. Albuquerque, where I was met by my cousin and old school mate, the Rev. Josiah Heald and his son, Jr., who with their Ford soon landed me at their parsonage home. Mr. Heald, as superintendent of the Congregational churches of New Mexico and Arizona, is a very busy man and I had only an hour to visit with him as he had to take the night train for Grand Rapids, Mich., to attend the Congregational National Council.

Mrs. Heald is also an ordained minister and with her and her son, Josiah, I passed a very pleasant Sunday. It was in fact, a red letter day for men and many others, for King Albert and his train passed through the city that day and we gave a grand reception by the citizens of Albuquerque.

With my young friend, Heald, in his auto we were early at the show and chose a good location quite near the royal three and were well repaid for our time and trouble by what we saw of Belgium's three most noted and heroic leaders.

Albuquerque has a population perhaps of 20,000, about half and half, Indians and Americans. It is on the Rio Grande river and at an elevation of almost 5,000 feet. There are fine buildings, electric cars, lights, etc. The Mexican part is built mostly of sun dried brick and in contrast to the American city has a rather tumbledown appearance. It is noted as a health resort and several consumptive sanatoriums have been built here.

Rev. Mr. Heald is a good example of what this climate will do for people with weak lungs. Of his father's family of 12 children five died with consumption and he in his early ministry had lung trouble and hemorrhages from the lungs. He tried various climates, but not until he came to Arizona and New Mexico did he find relief. Now he is strong and well, a perfect picture of health.

He was born in Lovell Center and Mrs. Heald is a daughter of Elder Pike of Fryburg or Stow. They are a credit to their native state and have made good in their labors in the upbuilding of their adopted homes in Arizona and New Mexico.

On Monday night I took the 8 p. m. train and continued my journey to the west. All Monday night, all day Tuesday and Tuesday night we sped upon our way and by early dawn Wednesday morning we had left a thousand miles of dry desert behind and about 8 a. m. arrived at the beautiful city of San Bernardino, in a land of flowers and fruit, where Jack Frost seldom comes, and where irrigation and summer heat makes the land to bud and blossom like the rose.

Here I left the main line and took a car on a stub line that runs 30 miles west to Parris, Calif., where I visited for three days with my old South Dakota friend, Dr. E. E. Dill and family.

On Saturday morning I returned to San Bernardino and resumed my journey of 60 miles to Los Angeles, where I arrived about noon, where I was met by my nephew, Ellsworth Gile. We took an electric car out to Glendale, 1231 Maryland Ave., where I was soon at home with my sister and her family. I think I have made this letter long enough for this time so will close and continue my story some other day. The Editor has my thanks for the sample tin handle, which I will use as soon as I find a suitable can to go with it.—Joseph Andrews.

Do the pennies count? If you don't think so just hand them to us. The extra cent put on letter postage during our participation in the war yielded the government the tidy sum of $110,000,000.

DOCTORS VS. PHARMACISTS

That Maine physicians and druggists should stick to their respective professions, the doctors to the prescribing of medicines and the pharmacist to the compounding of them is the text of an appeal, in behalf of public health, which is being made by Dr. H. E. Hitchcock, director of the Division of Venereal Diseases of the State Department of Health.

Dr. Hitchcock feels that such reciprocity would be of infinite value in the fight against all types of disease.

He discourages the habit, already becoming obsolete among progressive physicians, of dispensing drugs from the doctor's office to the patient, contending that no physician can compete in supply that no pharmacist can compete in compounding them, with the druggist whose stock is constantly being renewed and whose training is supplemented by steady practice.

His conclusion is that if the doctor turns over to the pharmacist his legitimate trade, the druggist on his part will give up the harmful practice which is prevalent among certain types of drug stores, of prescribing over the counter, remedies which may alleviate but do not cure and consequently spread disease.

GREAT OPPORTUNITY

For some time past the residents of Maine have realized that some decided steps in advance and along new and progressive lines must be taken if Maine is to occupy a position among the states to which she is rightfully entitled.

While other states have been making rapid headway, Maine has continued to plod along in the even tenor of its way and its sons have gone forth and made other states great commercially, industrially and financially.

For some years past the realization has been forced upon the citizens of Maine that they must take decided steps forward, or else continue to lose their sons to add to the wealth and commercial activity of other sections of the country.

Several attempts have been made in recent years to step forward, but in many instances the results proved far short of hopes. These attempts were not failures, not by any manner of means, but they did not reach the high mark at which they aimed. They have accomplished much good, every effort in the right direction is productive of results, but there was much yet to be desired.

The State Board of Trade has done much to interest the citizens of Maine in the forward movement, the possibilities of Maine as an industrial, commercial, fishing and shipping center have been presented in a most convincing manner.

The State Agricultural and Industrial League also accomplished results in teaching the benefits and necessity of co-operation between the agricultural, industrial, financial and commercial interests.

Now the two organizations have combined under the title of the State Chamber of Commerce and Industrial League and a great forward step in the right direction has been taken. The two bodies merged together, rejuvenated, re-organized, and with a tremendous power, could have had to such a degree separated, should be a mighty factor in making Maine people into a unified community that will secure a greater measure of prosperity to the state.

There was a time when citizens could each conduct their business enterprises along individual lines, with little or no concern as to what his competitors or neighbors were doing, but that day has passed. This is strikingly illustrated in our markets today. It is generally acknowledged that Maine can raise as fine apples as are grown in any place, yet at present as a dozen state apples are selling for one dollar a dozen in our local stores, while Notheds, Maine's favorite eating apples are selling at 39 cents per peck.

The whole story is told in two words: cooperation and standardization. The western apple growers realize the necessity of paying particular attention to their product, grading it carefully and working together for a favorable market. The Maine apple growers do a large extent send their product to market with little attention to grading and almost less to marketing. And the above is but a single instance that might be repeated in many lines.

The new organization has a great work to do and it must have the cooperation of the citizens, the business, commercial and financial interests in every part of the state. Properly supported and encouraged this organization can do much to add to Maine's prestige as a commercial, financial, shipping, agricultural, industrial and fishing state.—Argus.

BRAIN VS. BRAUN

This seems to be the period when brawn is receiving more for its services than brain and there are very good reasons why such a situation is not the right one. The man or woman who spends long years in educational institutions or serving an apprenticeship to learn a trade is devoting a part of the best period of his or her life to building up an investment from which it is hoped to get larger returns than if such preliminary training had not been undertaken. Higher education, and training to perfect one's skill in any line takes from two to five years during which time there is very little financial return and generally, on the contrary, a large outlay of money. It is then expected that this special training will result in one's being better fitted to handle the affairs of the world and because of this added ability, which means greater efficiency, a higher value should be placed on one's services.

On the other hand the men or women who use simply the physical strength which has been bestowed upon them, and whose work does not require special training or special intelligence, may begin life's tasks from two to five years earlier at almost a maximum wage for this class of employment at the very start. Highly educated people are not necessary for the work is so simple that anyone can do it.

Strange as it may seem, however, the wheel of fortune has turned that the highly trained workers, like the teacher or many others in professional life, are receiving less per year than the worker who knows no more than to handle a pick and shovel or some similar task. From the moral and religious standpoint one is as good as another, but as factors for the shaping and upbuilding of a community there is no comparison. The time must come when proper return is given the person who makes an effort to better himself and by so doing better the people as a whole, or else our entire economic fabric will be disrupted.—Express.

BANKRUPT LAND

They don't know much in the big cities about the decreased productive power of agricultural land. But we haven't their excuse.

We are not all farmers in Norway. But we are in a better position than New Yorkers and Chicagoans to know what a farm looks like. There are people in the metropolis who don't seem to know that you get milk from a cow. They think you get it from a milkman. They think tomatoes come from a can. But there are cogent truths in the science of agriculture which both New York and Norway seem content to ignore, and which grim necessity will force us to recognize. We shall find the schooling less painful if we start the course at once.

The chemical elements which make soil fertile are nitrogen, potassium, phosphorus, sulphur, sodium and a few others. The production of various crops impoverishes the soil in proportion to the quantity of these ingredients which they subtract from it.

At the price which tobacco farmers now pay for fertilizer the growth of one ton of tobacco takes from the soil $120 worth of nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash.

There are now in the United States less than 750,000 square miles of land waiting to be cultivated, including all ground not yet drained or irrigated. When this is taken up the steady course of soil exhaustion will be in progress everywhere, and it will be a simple problem in arithmetic how soon we will be agriculturally bankrupt. Altogether it seems high time for us to be taking under consideration the question of maintaining the fertility of arable land.

Sugar beets draw chemical strength from the soil, but beet sugar, after refining, does not contain the ingredients. It remains in the pulp and leaves. That is why the Germans exported beet sugar but returned the pulp to their own soil as fertilizer. It contained the nourishing chemicals and the fecundity of the land was unimpaired.

What they did in Europe we can do. Hitherto the richness of untapped resources have enabled us to neglect those thrifty policies with which older nations have been able to prevent the exhaustion to which all cultivated land is eventually liable. The sooner we start the work of conservation the easier we shall find it.

BETHEL

Committed Suicide

Fred C. Bean of East Bethel took his own life by hanging Friday evening. Mr. Bean had been despondent for some time but had seemed more cheerful for the previous week. Friday night he went to the home of his son, Freeborn Bean, which was near his home to do the chores. Not returning to the house as soon as expected, Mrs. Freeborn Bean went to look for him and found his body suspended in the barn, but life was extinct.

Mr. Bean was the son of the late Eliphaz and Sarah Farnham Bean and was born at East Bethel, March 23, 1858. In 1884 he married Tera Bartlett, who survives him with two sons, Lester, principal of Phillips high school and Freeborn, who lived near the old home, also one sister, Mrs. Edmund Merrill of Bethel Hill.

Mr. Bean was an honest industrious man and a prosperous farmer. He was a kind husband and an affectionate father, and was much respected by his associates. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias and that order performed its ceremony at the funeral, which was held at the home Sunday afternoon. Rev. J. H. Little of the Bethel Universalist church officiated and burial was at the cemetery near the East Bethel church.

Word off Influenza By Keeping in Best Physical Condition

Persons Who Catch Cold Easily and Who are Weak and Run Down are Earliest Victims.

DANGER IS TOO GREAT TO TAKE ANY CHANCES

Build Up Your Bodily Powers or Resistance by Taking Tanlac and Fortify Against Attack.

Much of the difficulty experienced by health authorities in checking the spread of influenza lies in the fact that it spreads with almost lightning rapidity. Although state and city authorities have succeeded in keeping it under control in some sections, the disease has gotten entirely beyond control in others.

It is universally agreed by all well-informed persons that the surest preventive is to get the system into the best possible physical condition, in order to be able to throw off the infection. It has been stated that it is possible to perfect the powers of human resistance so that it can throw off almost any infection, not excepting Spanish influenza, which is generally supposed to be one of the most contagious diseases known.

Mrs. Elizabeth D. Yates
The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth D. Yates who died Tuesday, Feb. 3, was held at the Universalist Church on Thursday at 10.30 a. m. Rev. H. A. Markley assisted by Rev. H. H. Hathaway conducted the service. There were lots of beautiful flowers from relatives and friends.

Mrs. Yates was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Artemus Felt, who passed away many years ago. She was 86 years old in January. She was the wife of the late Dr. O. K. Yates and the last of her family. She had four children, the oldest, Llewellyn, who died when a young man. Two died in infancy, and the youngest, Myrtle, who was the first wife of Dr. F. E. Wheeler of this place. Mrs. Yates was the last one of a large family. She brought up one of her sister's daughters, Yelma Stevens, wife of Charles E. Dunham of South Paris. Mrs. Dunham is suffering with a severe attack of rheumatism, also her husband was sick at the time so could not be present with her any at the last. Those of her nieces and nephews who were here and attended the funeral were Jesse F. Libby, Charles H. N. H., Allie Felt, and Charles Felt and their wives of Portland, Mrs. Hannah Joy of Yarmouth, Mrs. Alice Cross of Lewiston and Mrs. Henry Cummings of Wakefield, Mass. There is one more only niece not mentioned above who is Miss Minneapolis, Minn., Mrs. Nellie Daniel, and was not able to come because of the distance. Mrs. Daniel was here and stayed a year or more when the doctor was first stricken with disease.

Mrs. Yates was a member of the Universalist Church. She had the simple, childlike faith that was sweet to meet. The name of her Creator was about the last to pass her lips. She longed to go to meet the dear ones gone before. She was also a member of the Good-Will Society, who gave her flowers in remembrance. She was one of the first members of the W. C. T. U. and remained a member as long as she was able to take any part in it.

George Scribner, who has been staying with Mrs. O. K. Yates has been having the flu and still has the trained nurse, Miss B. Graves, who was nurse for Mrs. Yates. He is gaining and is in hopes in a week or two to be out and able to go to his sister's in Portland.

Mrs. Addie Danforth and Mrs. Elvess Packard of Norway recently visited their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hill.

E. D. Curtis and J. J. Mann have been working on their frozen water pipes for the past week and have succeeded in starting it again.

The drama "Plum Valley" Thursday and Friday, was quite successful, both nights were stormy and cold, but in spite of the weather, they had a good house both nights. They have since repeated it at Bryant's Pond. The play is a lot of humor in it which is always enjoyed.

Emerson G. Curtis went Wednesday morning to Roxbury, Mass., to stay the rest of the winter with his son there. Says he is coming back next summer to go fishing.

The funeral of Comrade William Swan was largely attended, Company D also attended. The casket was draped in a U. S. flag and there were a lot of flowers. Rev. H. A. Markley and Rev. H. H. Hathaway attended. Mr. Markley read a poem composed by Fannie Waterhouse, one of the high school scholars. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Briggs sang two duets.

WOODSTOCK

Mrs. Anna R. Billings
Anna R., widow of the late Emerson Billings, passed away at her home, Jan. 30, after a serious illness of about four months, at the age of 73 years.

She was born in Greenwood, Jan. 4, 1847 and was the youngest of eleven children born to Benjamin and Mahala Russell. Three sisters survive her.

She received her education in the schools of her home town and Gould's Academy and taught many terms of school in Greenwood, Woodstock and Cushing. Religiously she was a Universalist and was much interested in grange work, being one of the first who was initiated into Franklin grange.

The greater part of her married life was spent on the farm on Billings hill, where her children, Lulu M., wife of Geo. Brown, of Oxford, Benjamin R. and Herman E. were born. About twenty years ago Mr. Billings purchased the farm known as the Danville Libby place and moved there with the youngest son, Herman, who has cared for both father and mother to the end.

Mrs. Billings filled the place of mother to Mrs. Lottie O. Howe of Gorham, N. H., having taken her at the age of three and cared for her as one of her own until she married. She was a devoted wife and mother and a much loved grandma to ten grandchildren. She was a woman of sterling qualities and will long be remembered among her friends for her kindness and her devotion to duty.

Chamber of Commerce Meeting
At the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, Feb. 4, the question of good roads for this section was the chief topic for discussion.

Arthur Andrews will keep a horse at Ralph M. Bacon's for the remainder of the winter and change horses there each day as this is nearly the halfway point on route two.

A pair of snow buntings have been visiting at Maplewood farm for several days. As it is their custom to travel in flocks it seems rather unusual.
